

JOHNSON'S JERSEYS COLLEGIATE COLLECTOR NEWSLETTER

THE OPENING FACEOFF... NEW ARRIVALS

Normally I start out with a rundown of all the new arrivals since the last newsletter, but honestly it would be several pages to discuss them all. So, this month just some quick highlights. We have been receiving quite a few requests for Denver Pioneers. A nice collection of them was added via consignment and a couple nice WCHA era ones remain available. Over the Winter we also secured the last of the Alabama Huntsville Chargers jerseys. Just one white left, but still a couple each of the road blues and silver alternates. On the less frequently seen end of the scale, one from Lindenwood and one great vintage Illinois-Chicago Flames were added as well. See the last page for a complete list of all the new arrivals.

TIMEOUT FOR COACHING... WHO REALLY MADE THAT JERSEY?

One of the interesting aspects of the jersey hobby is name branding. Starting in 2024 the NHL will have Fanatics branded jerseys on the ice. Fear not fellow collectors, the on-ice jerseys will still be made in Canada by SP as in past years, so your “gamers” won’t be the garbage Fanatics sells via retail. Anyway, as hockey collectors we’re more focused on what the hockey teams wear than most athletic departments (who generally focus on “revenue sports” like football, basketball, baseball, etc). As a result, some strange brand names can show up on jerseys from time to time. Even companies that clearly don’t make jerseys show up as branding on jerseys to comply with whatever endorsement deal might have been inked by the athletic department. Review your collection and look at the brand name on the outside and then the tagging on the inside to see who really made that jersey. Adidas by Nike, Adidas by CCM, Mission by Dangle, and New Balance / Under Armour / Warrior / ITECH / TPS / SherWood / etc by SP. You might be surprised how often the two are different.

AT THE END OF THE REGULAR SEASON... IT’S TOURNEY TIME!

While the selection of the NCAA tournament field has had few surprises as to WHO would be included, there are always a few suspenseful moments as they wait to learn WHERE the committee will place certain teams so travel plans can be booked. If you’re looking for a last-minute jersey of your favorite tourney bound team, we can help. (Unless you’re a Broncos fan, sorry nothing available this year.) Next Day Air shipping is available, just reach out for a quote.

If your team didn’t make the field this year, next season is only a few months away. Hope springs eternal!
